2012 Event

The Salvation Army Southeast Michigan Adult Rehabilitation Center (ARC) is celebrating happily ever after with our 8th Annual Harvest of Blessings.

The highlight of the evening will come during a fashion show featuring models by women currently in our care.

“The ladies who live at the Romulus facility truly undergo a massive transformation while participating in our event.”

Throughout the evening, guests will be invited to take part in a silent auction of items donated by various community members.

All proceeds will directly benefit the nonprofit’s residential women’s rehabilitation center that first opened in 1976.

“The ultimate goal of the Harvest of Blessings event is to raise money to provide support for beneficiaries of the center.”

2009 Event

Mark your calendars, tickets are now on sale for The Salvation Army Southeast Michigan Adult Rehabilitation Center’s 2009 Harvest of Blessings event.

“We’re extremely blessed to have the sponsorship of Yono Properties, LLC which makes it possible for us to offer such a wonderful evening.”

Festivities begin at 6:30 p.m. with a reception and continue with a sit-down dinner at 7:00 p.m. The event concludes with a silent auction and a raffle.

The purpose of “A Harvest of Blessings” is to encourage attendees to share their blessings and help the center continue to provide a safe and supportive environment for women.

Since 1926 the Salvation Army Southeast Michigan Adult Rehabilitation Center has been dedicated to providing substance abuse treatment and counseling for women.

Completely self-funded, the ARC draws its entire operating budget from the revenue of the 25 Salvation Army churches in the Southeast Michigan area.
